

The recruitment text

“Engaged patients or informal caregivers that do more in their self-care and health care, than expected of them. E.g. searching for health information online, have ideas of new solutions/innovations for their self-care and in communication with health care, or track their health to gain further knowledge.”